Steel Lift Pads with Adapter

Ultra-rugged Steel Lift Pad adapters are a must-have for any two-post lift seeing an especially large amount of action. With an all-steel construction, Steel Lift Pads are designed to take on heavy usage without wearing down, reducing your overall operating cost.

These hardened-steel lift pads have ridged edges that grip the chassis frame of your vehicle for an extra-secure hold, ensuring that your car stays put while you work. Steel Lift Pads also feature a 35 mm or 60 mm diameter adapter pin (sold separately) that fits into BendPak two-post lift arms. This gives you the power to change out your adapters with ease, and makes installation a quick and painless process.

Features

- 35 mm or 60 mm pin available
